Dear Friends and Neighbors,

I am thrilled to welcome everyone attending Ananda Mela, an incredible event showcasing the diversity of the Indian community here in Redmond.

As the largest Indian festival in the Pacific Northwest, it brings together people from all over the state showcasing festivities and culture through traditional dance, music, food, yoga and more.

Thank you to the Vedic Cultural Center for putting this event together for its ninth iteration, and to the City of Redmond for hosting.

I am extremely proud to represent such a diverse community in the 45th district.

Please accept my warmest regards for this joyful occasion. I wish that you all have a wonderful celebration!

Best Wishes,

Manka Dhingra
